You're Invited to the Virtual 2020 Syndromic Surveillance Symposium!
November 17-19, 2020

Registration for the 2020 Syndromic Surveillance Symposium is open
NOW through Monday, November 9, 2020 (EOD).

Register for the event HERE.

The Council of State and Territorial Epidemiologists (CSTE), in collaboration with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) National Syndromic Surveillance Program (NSSP), will virtually convene the 2020 Syndromic Surveillance Symposium from November 17-19, 2020. Mark your calendar for the following dates and times:

- Tuesday, November 17, 2020 – 1:00-5:00pm ET
- Wednesday, November 18, 2020 – 1:00-5:00pm ET
- Thursday, November 19, 2020 – 1:00-5:00pm ET

CSTE is partnering with Kahuina Consulting to help provide an engaging and interactive virtual forum for the syndromic surveillance community to exchange experiences, share best practices, and take away innovative solutions and strategies for advancing syndromic surveillance practice. Attendees will have opportunities to learn new skills from technical experts, from the basics to latest analytical techniques. There will also be a forum to discuss the future of the NSSP Community of Practice and increasing syndromic surveillance capacity at the state, local, and nation levels. The Planning Committee is working diligently to identify quality content and ways to facilitate virtual networking with colleagues over the three (3) consecutive afternoons.

The 2020 Syndromic Surveillance Symposium is open to any person or organization interested in advancing syndromic surveillance and FREE of charge. However, the targeted audience for this event is syndromic surveillance coordinators, epidemiologists, ELC HIS cooperative agreement leads, and NSSP site administrators.

The event program will be made available in the coming weeks. For any questions regarding the symposium, please contact the CSTE National Office at syndromic@cste.org.

We look forward to (virtually) seeing you in mid-November!
