

National Meeting of Influenza Surveillance Coordinators

Sunday, June 9, 2013 – Full Day

CSTE, in collaboration with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, will be hosting an Influenza Surveillance Coordinators Workshop on Sunday, June 9, 2013 in conjunction with the CSTE Annual Conference. The purpose of the workshop is to provide a forum for jurisdictions and CDC to discuss current themes in influenza surveillance and to strengthen relationships and cooperation between influenza programs from health departments around the country.

Invited participants include Influenza Coordinators from state, territorial, and large local health departments. Participants will also include representatives from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. This workshop is open to all registered attendees.

Learning Objectives:

- Determine “best practice” strategies for influenza surveillance in health departments considering current and approaching budget constraints
- Identify and discuss epidemiologic concerns related to recent novel influenza case detections, including case definition, data collection instruments, case reporting methods, laboratory methods, and the local and national response
- Provide a forum for discussion of current themes and events in the field of influenza surveillance epidemiology and for collaboration between surveillance coordinators and CDC

Facilitators:

Lynnette Brammer, CDC

Scott Epperson, CDC
